

Generic Admission Policy

Nursing students are admitted to the college according to the policies of the Dodge City Community College. Acceptance to the college does not automatically ensure admission to the Associate Degree Nursing Program. Acceptance to the Department of Nurse Education (DNE) program is a separate and competitive process.

Applicants to the program must meet all admission criteria for DCCC. Application or readmission will be declined to any applicant with two previously recorded unsuccessful attempts to complete a program of nursing at DCCC or elsewhere.

The DNE reviews all COMPLETED applications. Applicants are accepted, waitlisted or declined based upon total point compilations. Points are awarded for grade point average above 2.75, comprehensive entrance examinations scores above 62% within the last one year, letters of reference, and the interview process. The application deadline for fall semester entry is March 1st of the application year. If the student is currently in a class, the mid-term grade must be presented to the nursing department to have mid-term grades counted toward admission consideration. Completed applications are considered until class capacity is full.
